Hello there,

I wanted to start my CV with a brief personal statement. I have been in Europe since August 2018 studying and preparing for my next baseball opportunity after making the decision to continue my career overseas. I have discovered so much about myself by taking the chance of leaving home and immersing myself in new environments, but am ready to add baseball, my ultimate passion right now, into that mix.

Before arriving, I was training at a baseball specific facility called the Baseball Development Group in Toronto, Canada. With them, I went from a skinny, unprepared ballplayer, to a physically capable, motivated force and I'm still growing. That increasing ability has given a new perspective on what I am capable of, and would love to continue that growth with you!

Personal Profile:

178 cm, 77 kg

Two-Way Player – RHP/SS/Outfield

Fastball – 85-88mph

Breaking Ball – 82-84 mph (Scouts in Dominican Republic said it was Pro ready)

ChangeUp – 77-80 mph

Bats: Right

Throws: Right

My History:

2015- Yuba College, Marysville, California

Played for my first JUCO (Junior College) team in California after my graduation from high school in 2015. I was a small, skinny, unpolished player, but had the passion for the game. 74 mph fastball with a 170cm, 60 kg frame was where I came from.

2016- Returned home to train and work

After 1 semester in Yuba, I had just missed the cut for the team, and decided I wanted to return home to pursue the game in a more serious way by improving my physical profile. I began with just my physique without baseball, and after 6 months, I returned to training the two together.

2017-Ventura College

Returned to the United States, and back to California, at a different JUCO that was a higher level, with a mid 80's fastball and a better understanding of myself, I was only here for about 10 weeks as my financial situation had deteriorated and I had to return home. Was in line to become a top starter on that team.

2018-More training and the Journey to Europe

After being in America two separate times, I wanted to use my passion for baseball to live a unique and independent life. I found a platform that helped me find cities in Europe and around the world where I could study, play baseball, and pursue my other passions. With them, I found La Rochelle, and will always be grateful for this journey thus far.

2019- Français et La Rochelle Boucaniers

Je viens de terminer mes études en français en décembre 2019. I have become fluent in French, and while there is always work to do, I really have a strong desire to start the journey again with a new language. Last season, I played the beginning in Slovenia and returned to France to play the majority of the season with the La Rochelle Boucaniers in the French Division 1 Baseball League. We qualified for the playoffs for the first time in team history and enjoyed my time with them.

2020 - Where things get fun

This is the year I take off, I feel it. I would love for you to be a part of my journey.

Experience:

Players Edge Athletics 2016 - 2018

When I returned to Canada, I had to find work as well to help pay for my training expenses and to live, and with that, I found a baseball coaching job with a company called Players Edge Athletics. I have coached with large groups and teams and individually in private lessons as well. I am willing to work with coaches or create exercises for the youth by myself – I enjoy the creativity in making the game fun and exciting for those not familiar with it.

Oui je me permets d'en dire au sujet de Nick. C'est un garçon vraiment motivé courageux et qu'il veut vraiment attendre son projet qui est si chère pour lui, devenir un joueur professionnel. Je suis sûr qu'il a les compétences pour y arriver. Il arrive travailler et à faire des efforts admirable, il est sérieux posé et un garçon avec passion pour ce qu'il voudrait être. J'étais jouer à haut niveau en République Dominicaine, j'étais lanceur aussi et je suis bien placé pour en voir du potentiel chez Nick. Je suis vraiment content de le suivre.

Translation:

Yes, I'll say something about Nick. He is a brave and really motivated young man and he really wants to work for this dream which is so dear to him, to become a professional player. I'm sure he has the skills to get there. He happens to work and to make admirable efforts, he is serious and a young man with passion for what he wants to be. I was playing high level in the Dominican Republic, I was also pitcher and I am well placed to see potential at Nick. I'm really happy to follow him.

I wanted to close by saying thank you for giving me the interest you have thus far. After meeting and discussing the possibility of playing for your team, I would love to continue the dialogue with you guys to see if we could finalize a deal to get me to come there.

Can't wait to hear from you soon!

*Avec Passion,
Nico KyRose*
